Welcomed W-W skill development class. After brief check in proceeded to present ideas and practical ways of demonstrating positive attitude at work. Talked with clients about doing well, but not becoming obsessed with perfectionism – unless the job demands this level. Also talked about how worries and anxieties actually hamper work attitude and performance. Also discussed positive thinking and how this affects both the quality and quantity of work effort. Good group discussion with clients providing specific examples from their own experience.

Individual Note:

Client interested in today’s topic and willing to engage with large group to share. Some shyness persists but seems to becoming more comfortable with group. Defensiveness low.

Plan:

- Begin introduction to management of conflict at work and understanding ways to manage this.
- Discuss active listening as an essential component of communication.
