Rehab group met this morning. All members on time. Discussed with group briefly how their past week has gone. All but 1 member actively employed at this time. Discussed and processed with the group the following positive attributes of a good team player:

- Flexibility
- Commitment to the team
- Problem-solver

Group members talked about how each of these positive qualities might appear in a work setting. Group members then articulated in writing and on paper how they might demonstrate these qualities in their work setting.

Individual:

Good participant. Willing to engage and even initiate conversations around above topics. Defensiveness low. Doing well.

Plan:

- Continue looking at positive attributes of a good employee.
- Continue support in present work situation.
